V - Evaluation parameters and seriation in relative merit, respective weighting and final valuation system

The assessment and seriation in relative merit of applicants will be based on the seriation criteria and their weighting identified below, resulting in the ordering of the weighted average of the quantitative scores obtained in each of the assessment parameters, within a scale of 0-100 points:

1 - Curriculum evaluation (100%) - The Curricular Evaluation focuses on the activities developed by the applicants in the scientific area of the tender, and its adequacy to the category of Assistant Professor, considering the following parameters:

A) Scientific performance (50%) - In the assessment of scientific performance in the scientific area of the tender, the following factors will be considered:

a) Scientific production - Quality and quantity of scientific production (books, book chapters, articles in indexed international journals, communications at conferences) expressed, namely, by the number and type of publications in indexed international journals and by the recognition given to them by the scientific community (translated as the quality and reference made to them by other authors) (30%);

b) Participation in scientific research projects with external funding, taking into consideration the project's dimension, scientific-technological level, degree of innovation and project results, including final evaluation when applicable (10%);

c) Supervision of academic work: supervision of advanced training, in particular supervision of internships, master's degrees and doctorates (5%);

d) Participation as an editor of international journals, reviewer of publications in international journals, applications for research grants or advanced training and scientific projects (5%).

B) Pedagogical Capacity (35%) - The following factors will be considered when assessing pedagogic capacity:

a) Lecturing activity - Quality and diversity of the lecturing activity developed by the applicant, taking into account, among other relevant factors, the results of opinion polls (e. g., pedagogic surveys), which should be mentioned in the curriculum, whenever available (25%);

b) Participation in juries of academic examinations (5%);

c) Other pedagogic activities - Quality and quantity of pedagogic material and publications of a pedagogic nature produced by the applicant, other activities with an impact on the teaching-learning process carried out by the applicant, including training internships for young graduates or masters (5%).

C) Other activities relevant to the University's mission (15%) - In assessing other relevant activities, the following factors will be considered:

a) Participation in actions and publications of scientific, cultural or technological dissemination, (5%);

b) Participation in the development of extension projects including scientific dissemination and the provision of services to the scientific/educational community, the economic-productive fabric and/or society in general (5%);

c) Organization of scientific or educational events in the scientific area of the application (5%).

VI - Selection process in relative merit

1 The methodology for selection in relative merit is the following:

a) During the meeting, each member of the jury submits a written document, which will be attached to the minutes, stating their own ordering of the applicants, of the applicants' scientific performance, pedagogical skills and other relevant activities, and their respective weights. At each ballot, every member of the selection jury will abide by the ordering they submitted and abstentions are not permitted.

b) The first ballot is intended to determine which applicant is placed at the top of the ordered list.

c) If an applicant obtains more than half of the votes, he or she shall be placed first in the ordered list;

d) If two applicants obtain exactly half of the votes each, the jury president shall have the casting vote, deciding which shall be placed at the top of the ordered list. The jury president will use as tie-breaking criteria the date the PhD degree was conferred, the most recent prevailing, and, if the tie still remains, the date of birth, the most recent prevailing;

e) If neither of those two cases c) and d) occurs, a new ballot will take place after applicants who obtained no votes in the previous ballot have been eliminated as well as the applicant who obtained fewest votes but who obtained at least one vote;

f) If there is a draw between two or more applicants for the position of least-voted, another ballot shall be held to determine which of the least-voted applicants shall be eliminated. At this ballot, jury members vote obligatorily for the applicant who is lowest-placed on their own seriation;

g) If there is still a draw between two or more applicants, the jury president shall decide which of the drawing applicants shall be eliminated. The jury president will use as tie-breaking criteria the date of the PhD degree was conferred, the most recent prevailing, and, if the tie still remains, the date of birth, the most recent prevailing;

h) After this applicant has been eliminated along with the applicants who received no votes in the first ballot, another ballot will be held to decide which applicant shall be placed at the top of the ordered list, continuing to use the same procedure until one applicant obtains more than half the votes for first place;

i) Once an applicant has been placed first on the ordered list, his or her name shall be removed from the voting and the process will be repeated to find the second-placed applicant, and so on until all the applicants have been placed on the ordered list.
